

1. What do you know already?

Just type some of the things you know (or think you know) on this post-it.

2. What can you add to your learning now that you've seen the new information?

After you've looked through the new material, add what you've learnt on this post-it.

4. What questions do you have now?

You need to come up with at least one question.

3. Having completed all the work, what do you know now?

Add the most important things you've learnt on this post-it.
