

What is a Computer?

1. Fill in the blanks using the words in the box.

A computer is a which deals with data.

Data is any information. Computers data so they can use it again.

Computers take data and it. This changes the data in some way.

Computers data so that people know things. This can be done on a screen or by using sounds.

store	present	machine	process
-------	---------	---------	---------

2. Write definitions of each of these words.

data
store
process
present
input	